TestCircle Testing Feedback Report

Oct 8, 2026

This report summarizes the testing feedback received for StealthVox through TestCircle, a peer-to-peer mutual testing platform for indie Android developers.

Summary

What testers liked

Testers praised the intuitive, modern interface and the creative core features, particularly Scenario Talk and Circle Talk, which allow for natural language practice. The AI-driven conversations were noted for being highly accurate and engaging. Overall, users found the app smooth, stable, and easy to navigate.

Suggested improvements

Future improvements include fixing the Duo Connect feature, ensuring language settings are fully consistent, and adding AI voice selection. Testers suggested implementing a loading indicator, refining toast messages, and creating a dedicated settings tab for privacy policies and terms to ensure full compliance.

First Impressions

I was very confused when I first started using it. But if I was an actual user I would no what it did before downloading it.

Initial Suggestions

The scenario talk works really well.

But duo connect doesn't work at all and the circle talk is stuck on a language that I can't pick.

First Impressions

Different ways to study (Duo connect, Circle talk, Scenario talk) are very creative.

Initial Suggestions

The layout is only partially in English. It would be gelpfyl and intuitive to have all UI components available in English if the users choose so.

First Impressions

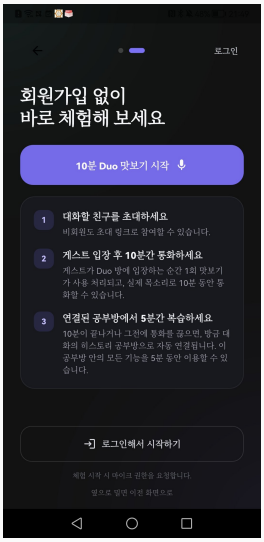

The app looks good and has a modern design, but I cannot provide detailed feedback because I don't understand the language

Bugs & Crashes

I did not notice any crashes or technical issues.

Initial Suggestions

An English language option would make the app easier to test and use.

Core Feature Feedback

I really like the core concept of StealthVox—learning a new language through interactive study and live call/chat rooms feels much more natural and engaging than traditional drills. Having a dedicated space to practice speaking and pick up nuances through real-time conversation is a fantastic approach; keep refining that core practice experience!

Core Feature Feedback

The ai response is pretty natural and the voice to text is very good over all.

Bugs & Performance

the scenario talk is always in English and they AI doesn't know what language they're speaking. They always just report that they're speaking English

Testing Obstacles: Other

Because there's no test purchase once I run out of credits I'll no longer be able to test the app

Core Feature Feedback

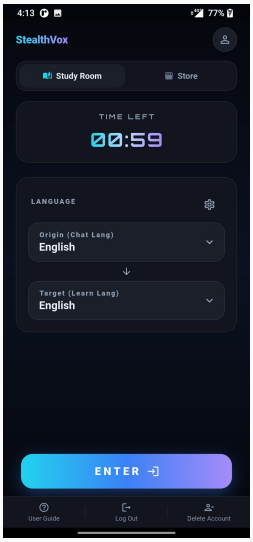

works exactly as expected, very intuitive and easy to navigate

Bugs & Performance

no bugs or errors, worked smoothly

Improvement Suggestions

need to have settings tab where privacy policy, terms and conditions, permissions required for the app are outlined for Google Playstore compliance requirement

Core Feature Feedback

Now I can see entire UI is available in English or any selected language. Meaning complete translation is available which was my feedback in Phase-1. Appreciate this quick action from developer.
The app has intelligence about the chat context. Anything outside of context is handled properly.

Bugs & Performance

No issues found.

Play Store Review

Your app has come a long way since I first tested it. It went from a confusing barely usable app to a well layed out useful translation/language practice app.
The updates you have done have improved your app alot. And the ai works floorlessly. It pricks up speech very well.

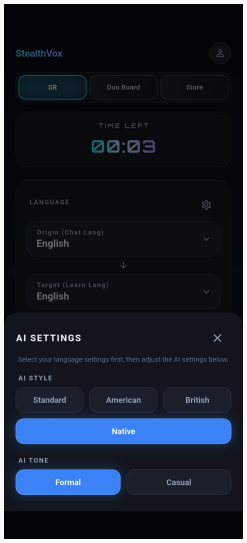

What You Liked Best

The scenario talk is a very good idea and also the AI is pretty much flawless.
I

Polishing Notes

I like the look of the new update. And I think the duo connect could be a really useful feature.
I did find another bug:
The ai settings don't seem to do anything
also it would be nice if you could select the male and female voices.

Also it would make conversations feel a bit more natural if you had a spinning wheel or something to indicate the ai is thinking in between responses.

Play Store Review

Wonderful app to learn a new language by practicing it with the help of AI. Also, the different talk modes like Duo connect, Scenario talk and Circle talk are very interesting.

What You Liked Best

The strongest point for this app are it's different talk modes. Plus, I also observed that there are UI improvements in latest update which looks really good.
The AI-based translations are also very accurate.

Polishing Notes

No issues found.
